Cultural Program at School for Special Children

Posted on July 11, 2009 by Jitender

Centre for Sustainable Development organised a cultural program at School for Special Children, Nagchala in District Mandi. This school is being run by Sahyog, a Delhi based NGO. The school has about thirty students with mental disabilities from all over Himachal. Students of Special School participated in singing and dance competitions and proved that they are no less than normal children, if given a chance. Centre for Sustainable Development distributed fruits, sweets and drawing kits to the students of Special School.

Posted in: Special Children | Tagged: Activism, Centre For Sustainable Development, Health Camp, Himachal NGO, Mandi | With 0 comments