Under Project 'LEAD' Centre for Sustainable Development is organizing NLP workshops for Professional Excellence, Parenting and Teaching. The workshops are being organised at Sundernagar from November 26 to November 28, 2011. Due to increase in competitiveness at global level our professional as well as personal life is facing a rapid transition the world over and several new techniques are being used for optimum performance and excellence. NLP (Neuro Linguistic Programming) is one of such functional branches of Psychology. NLP is the study and application of models of human excellence. It offers techniques to transform innate potential into performance in both personal and professional life. It focuses on the principles and techniques that are easily applicable to leadership, management, and change, in business, and at home. It is usually believed that some people are naturally talented or that they have acquired a level of excellence through practice and experience. NLP side-steps these answers by focussing not on what has made the difference in the past between two people of different abilities, but on what can be done now to develop a competent person's performance closer to a level of excellence.
